

C# Developer

We're on the look out for a talented and ambitious C# Developer to join our rapidly growing team in Hertfordshire.

As an organisation we are pioneering new and innovative techniques to transform traditional printed customer communication into interactive conversations exploiting all relevant media. This may include email, SMS, Chat Bots and Robotics. We are looking for a pro-active, highly motivated individual who would relish an environment of learning and delivering.

You will contribute to and learn in a collaborative environment with high visibility of business achievements and personal impact. An integral part of a growing technology driven team, dedicated to self-development and professional discipline.

Our ethic is to provide opportunities for our people to grow and fulfil their potential, by embracing best practice to deliver real business value.

You'll need the following skills & experience:

- Computer Science HND or equivalent as a minimum (BSC is desirable) or relevant portfolio
- .NET Stack experience (C#, ASP.NET, MVC)
- HTML5, CSS3, JavaScript, XML, Json
- Knowledge and understanding of Agile, Lean, OO Design, Test Driven Development, Extreme Programming
- Willingness to learn new technologies
- 3 years minimum programming experience
- Strong team player who is proactive and collaborative
- Creative and imaginative with regards to solving problems
- Quick learner
- Good interpersonal and communication skills
- Requirement gathering
- Self-Driven

It would be great (but not essential) if you have experience with:

- MYSQL, Ruby, MongoDB, Powershell (or other similar).
- Web API's

About the role

As a member of the Development Team, you will operate within a creative environment where communication and teamwork are favoured over hierarchical structure.

You will be effective team member within a framework consisting of customers, business people, analysts and developers.

Working within the agile development team you will show leadership qualities to self-organising teams whose primary focus is delivering customer satisfaction and improved experience from software delivery.

You will have experience of different development practices and be able to guide the development team in terms of technology, approach and best practice.

You will be a self-starter with a positive outlook and a desire to innovate and try new approaches with a thirst for learning and knowledge growth.

Your responsibilities will be to:

- Work closely with other members of the development team
- Take part in project estimation and planning sessions
- Work with the team to schedule priorities and the backlog
- Identify and supporting development opportunities
- Attend client meetings (on or off-site) where required
- Build and refine designs for customer interfaces
- Determine appropriate architecture, and other technical solutions, and make relevant recommendations
- Be innovative in your thinking to provide high value-of-service
- Focus on reviewing and improving the customer experience
- Actively engage with and contribute to the development community
- Actively evolve and mature the XP/Agile methodology
- Identify and apply opportunities across a broad spectrum of software solutions
